

The background of the poster is a vibrant illustration of a village festival at night. It features a dark green sky with strings of red and yellow lanterns, and bursts of fireworks. In the foreground, there's a warm orange glow. On the left, a man in a cap is shown in a crouched position, ready to throw a ball, with two large black balls on the ground nearby. To his right, a vintage green car is filled with four people. The overall scene is festive and celebratory.
